

MAJOR IN AGRICULTURAL BUSINESS, FARM AND RANCH MANAGEMENT CONCENTRATION

The Farm and Ranch Management concentration builds skills in applied decision making required in production agriculture. The program of study allows students to apply a solid understanding of economics, and the underlying physical and biological sciences that drive agricultural technology, to problems facing modern farmers and ranchers.