

PH.D. IN SOCIAL WORK

The curriculum leading to the Ph.D. in Social Work combines a core curriculum in social work with outside coursework drawn from related disciplines and includes thorough training in research methodology and data analysis. The curriculum allows the student reasonable flexibility in tailoring programs of study to their special area(s) of interest under the guidance of their advisor and committee.

Learn more about the Ph.D. in Social Work on the School of Social Work website. (<https://www.chhs.colostate.edu/ssw/programs-and-degrees/ph-d-in-social-work/>)

Students interested in graduate work should refer to the Graduate and Professional Bulletin.

Learning Objectives

1. Empower future social work practitioners through state-of-the-art pedagogical approaches to professional education.
2. Engage in compelling, interdisciplinary research that enhances health and well-being across local and global community systems.
3. Generate and disseminate knowledge through education and research that transforms professional practice and social policy.
4. Advance social, environmental, and economic justice through professional education, community-engaged scholarship, and transformative leadership in the field.