

MASTER OF ARTS IN ANTHROPOLOGY, THE ANTHROPOLOGY OF HEALTH AND WELL-BEING SPECIALIZATION

---

The Master of Arts in Anthropology, the Anthropology of Health and Well-Being Specialization studies the ways human health and wellness are influenced by past and present sociocultural, environmental, biological, and biocultural forces by drawing from broad and holistic perspectives on human well-being.

Students interested in graduate work should refer to the Graduate and Professional Bulletin.

Learning Objectives

Students who are conferred an M.A. in Anthropology will:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of anthropological theory and method, and how to apply them appropriately.
2. Engage in independent research that addresses academic questions or societal challenges.
3. Demonstrate awareness of and respect for human diversity across space and time.
4. Possess the academic background and skills to enter a Ph.D. program in anthropology or a job related to the discipline.