

MAJOR IN LANGUAGES, LITERATURES, AND CULTURES, SPANISH FOR THE PROFESSIONS CONCENTRATION

This concentration will provide students with a foundation in Spanish for professional contexts, such as animal care, business, health care, and translation & interpreting. While receiving a foundation in the Spanish language, literature and culture, students will specialize in course sequences in an area of their choice from among the options LLC offers.

Learning Objectives

Upon successful completion of the program, students will be able to:

1. Successfully complete common and routine, as well as complex, workplace tasks which require communication in Spanish.
2. Demonstrate the ability to communicate and exchange ideas about common workplace related themes, both orally and in writing, using relevant field-specific vocabulary, grammatical accuracy and appropriate pronunciation.
3. Interact in a multi-cultural setting with an increased sensitivity to cultural and linguistic differences present in a specific work environment.
4. Demonstrate familiarity with relevant field-specific text types, genres and registers, as well as interpersonal and presentational formats of oral communication in particular work settings.
