

DEPARTMENT OF LANGUAGES AND GLOBAL STUDIES

Unlock the World with Language

Language is more than just words—it's the key to understanding cultures, making global connections, and shaping the future. When you study languages, you gain the power to think in new ways, engage with new communities, and open doors to careers in diplomacy, business, media, education, and beyond. From interpreting global events to creating art that transcends borders, our programs empower you with the skills to communicate, adapt, and thrive in a multilingual world.

Ready to expand your world? It all starts here.

Associate Professor Peter Erickson, Undergraduate Coordinator
Associate Professor Maite Correa, Graduate Coordinator

Languages and Global Studies is the study of global cultures through language. Students explore the diverse ways people communicate, create meaning, and connect across borders. Courses emphasize intercultural understanding, critical thinking, and real-world communication skills in Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Hebrew, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Russian, and Spanish. Our faculty are award-winning teachers and scholars dedicated to student success in and out of the classroom. The department offers vibrant major and minor programs, certificates, and language pathways for students in any field. High-impact learning opportunities include study abroad, community engagement, research with faculty, and language-focused clubs and events. With a focus on global citizenship, the department prepares students for careers in education, government, international business, translation, and beyond.

Minors

A minor in a foreign language offers opportunities for studying the language and culture of another country and complements many major fields. A student with a broadly based education, including a foreign language, will be better prepared to deal with changing technological, economic, and social conditions on an international scale. A student who minors in a foreign language may expect to develop sufficient competency to speak and write with reasonable accuracy and fluency while pursuing interest in language, literature, and culture. See the department for specific information on upper-division transfer work in the language of the minor.

All majors and minors in the department must earn a minimum grade of C (a grade of C- is not acceptable) in each upper-division course that carries the LARA, LASL, LCHI, LFRE, LGEN, LGER, LHEB, LITA, LJPN, LKOR, LRUS, or LSPA subject code.
