- ¹ No courses used to satisfy AUCC requirements may be used to satisfy the Social and Behavioral Sciences requirement.
- ² Select 12 credits from the Environmental Sociology electives list of eligible upper-division sociology courses. A total of 6 credits may come from outside sociology. Students can also petition the department for program credit when >25% of course material and grading are related to environment and society.
- ³ A statistics course is required if STAT 201 or STAT 204 was not taken to satisfy the AUCC 1B requirement. SOC 210 is recommended.
- ⁴ Select STAT 201 General Statistics (GT-MA1) or any Statistics course 200-level or above.
- ⁵ Select enough elective credits to bring program total to minimum of 120 credits, of which at least 42 must be upper-division (300- to 400-level).
