

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN HUMAN DIMENSIONS OF NATURAL RESOURCES, PLAN A

---

Requirements Effective Fall 2005

| Code                             | Title                                        | Credits   |
|----------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|-----------|
| NRRT 565                         | Research-Human Dimensions Natural Resources  | 3         |
| NRRT 605                         | Human Dimensions of Natural Resources Theory | 3         |
| NRRT 665                         | Survey Research and Analysis                 | 3         |
| NRRT 699                         | Thesis                                       | 6         |
| Select one from the following:   |                                              | 3         |
| NRRT 765                         | Applied Multivariate Analysis <sup>1</sup>   |           |
| Qualitative Methods Course       |                                              |           |
| Statistics (300-level or higher) |                                              | 3         |
| Electives                        |                                              | 14        |
| Program Total Credits:    |                                              | 35 |

A minimum of 35 credits are required to complete this program.

<sup>1</sup> Or qualitative methods course.